

The Mutts

The Mutts are among the Landsknecht company's fiercest and most motivated fighters. Formed from remnants of multiple companies they have gained many victories under their patchwork banner! The banner is the company's and the men would rather die than disgrace it and the fiery reputation of the company it represents. However it is the stoic and quick-witted Feldweibel Schneider that keeps order in the ranks with stubborn discipline! The men staying close to the banner until they engage the opponent's main strength and drive them back with push of pike and furious assaults. When the enemy is fully committed Feldweibel Schneider splits take the objective with a few picked men and secure victory! Many a foe has fallen before the stubborn fortitude and fiery disposition of this ragtag band of mutts and with this success has come offers of employment. .

Forze of Virtue

The Mutts

While the mutts lack the greatswords or gunners of other Landsknechts they have numbers and the determination to use them. With both a banner and a Feldweibel rallying virtues after losses is far from impossible. You can also split off the Feldweibel with a body of troops to outflank or pursue objectives. You will however want to hit hard and fast to make sure you make use of numbers before a more heavily armoured opponent wear's them down. Hit hard and use "Emperor's Finest" to drain further virtue. Use "Push of Pike" to keep enemies away from your lines or to shove them away from objectives .
