

Force of Virtue

Uli's Reislauer

The main export of the Swiss Cantons is it's fighting men. Hired out as mercenaries known as Reislauer. They are highly valuable commodity to the French Crown and Italian Free Cities. Uli Neff's Company of veterans are a heavily armed band of professional campaigners with years of experience. They can manoeuvre quickly on the enemy and have enough virtue to stick around. His gunners are the most veteran of his troop, mostly men who's beards have grown long and grey campaigning for cash.

The younger less experienced veterans usually are used for the more dangerous up close dangerous work in heavy armour alongside Uli in his own suit of full armour. .

Forze of Virtue

With two groups of veterans and a Capo the warband has excellent ability to pursue the objective and manoeuvre on the opponent to land devastating volleys with the gunners.

The Reislauer and longbeard cards on the gunners mean that they have 3 actions and are hitting on a 3+. So on average they should be able to get off one volley of gunfire a round.
